

Welcome to the New Year.

Thank you to everyone that came to Fastkart in 2009. Even with the downturn in the economy, you, our customer, gave Fastkart another successful year.

If you have found yourself in the unfortunate position of looking for work or struggling with the same old job, this is the best time to reinvent yourself. Upgrade your education, increase your skills, work smarter not harder.

Our country has just come off one of the best runs in history where anyone could be successful with a relatively common skill set. Today's job market requires that you distinguish yourself from the next person.

The easiest way to distinguish yourself, do what you love, love what you do. If you are not in the position to do what you love, love what you do then do the best job you can. If you do the best job that you can at what you are doing now, new opportunities will present themselves.

These words may seem empty from someone like me, the owner of a company. I have been homeless, ate jelly sandwiches for weeks, rode the bus, drove beater cars and decided to change my life.

Good luck in 2010
